1980. Rather than softening the squarish styling of 1979 and earlier models, Ford's 1980 and newer full-sized Trucks and Broncos have an even crisper look, seen most prominently in the angled corner at the rear of the cab on the truck as well as a similarly angled opening at the rear of the doors. Taller side windows that dip below the base of the windshield as well as a taller windshield that now blends with the forward edge of the cab roof mark the remaining, most visible changes for ...

The seventh generation of the Ford F-Series is a range of trucks that was produced by Ford from the 1980 to 1986 model years. The first complete redesign of the F-Series since 1965, the seventh generation received a completely new chassis and body. Distinguished by its squarer look and flatter body panels, this generation marked several firsts for the F-Series, including the introduction of ...
